NIBLICK AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

E. R. THOMAS'S COLT TAKES ELM-HURST STAKES.

Princelet, Tomcod, a 50 to 1 Shot; Sufferance, Shrine and Southampton Also Successful at Jamaica-Four Favorites Go Down to Defeat on Heavy Track.

The Jamaica track was heavy yesterday and four favorites lost. The weather was threatening and chilly, yet nearly 10,000 men women made the trip. C. G. Thomas's ick, by St. Gatien-Braw Lass, 13 to 20, won the Elmhurst Stakes, for two year-olds at five furious, rather easily. H. Phillips ad the mount, and after riding a patient race to the beginning of the stretch he let the youngster down, passing the first pole two lengths before the Tenny colt, Only One, a do to 1 shot, who was the same distance fore Austin Allen, 10 to 1. The time was

Rapport, 60 to 1 shot, was in front to the end of the turn. Locket was left at the post. The time

R. T. Wilson Jr.'s Sufferance, by Hastings - Subjection, backed down to 4 to 1, under a hard drive from Burns, got up in time to win the second event, for maiden two-year-old fillies at four and a half furlongs, by a head from Sydney Paget's Gotowin, by St. Gatien —Ortawin, 15 to 1, who made the running. Pierre Lorillard's Chrysitis, odds-on favorite, was third, two lengths away, getting a poor break. The time was 0:57.
Father Bill Daly's Tomcod, closing at

50 to 1, made a runaway of the third race at a mile and seventy yards, winning by half a length from Sais, the odds-on favorite, who get a weak ride from McCafferty. The latter beat Silver Days, 12 to 1, by half a Mackey Dwyer, second choice at threes, was left standing at the barrier. The time was 1:48 4-5. It was the talent's turn to rejoice when Shrine, even money favorite, took the fifth event at six furlongs by half a length in handy style. Cormack rode her in clever fashion, husbanding her speed with the skill of an artist. Foxy Kane, a heavily backed second choice at twos, got the place, three lengths before Lord Melbourne, 8 to 1. The race was run in 1:15 4-5.

Patsy McCue put up one of his characteristic finishes on Southampton, played down to 12 to 1, in the last race for maiden three-year olds at six furlongs, the Bathampton colt winning in the last dozen strides by three parts of a length from St. Breeze, 20 to 1. Billy Roche, the favorite, looked like a winner at the head of the stretch, but hung at the sixteenth pole and was third, two lengths back and a head in front of E. R. Thomas's Bound Brook. The figures hung out were

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

KILLING AT JAMAICA WITH A COLORED COOK'S HORSE.

Southampton, Backed Down From 60 to 1 to Twelves, Makes the Patrons of the Boarding House Kitchen" Roar With Delight-Clamoring for Standing Starts

For a week past Bob Johnston, a colored cook who runs, a "boarding house kitchen" for stable hands, exercise boys and others at the Jamaica track, has been a man of mystery. Except to answer the usual questions as to what made up the bill of fare or to pass the time of day, he has kept his mouth closed as tight as a drum. This air of secrecy naturally excited curiosity among the track inhabitants who knew that Johnson had something to do with the maiden three-yearold colt Southampton, by Bathampton-Flirt, who was sold by Perry Belmont last year. The colt was in the hands of Trainer Howard Williams, formerly in the employ of Julius Fleischmann, Billy Barrick and Jacob Worth, and it was rumored a few days ago that the first time he started he would win at a long price. Johnston unsealed his lips yesterday morning to a favored few. He told them that the day had arrived when the bookmakers would be relieved of their coin in chunks, and urged them to get aboard. The favored few lost no time in telling their own friends, so that it may be said that every colored man at the track had the tip, which was later imparted to others.

Southampton opened at 60 to 1. In a jiffy a battalion of colored men swarmed through the big betting ring, betting $1, $2, $5, and $10 on the colt, while many white men spread larger wagers across the board. The layers had been handling a world of wise money which served to back Billy Roche down from 8 to 1 to a 5 to 2 favorite, while Ogontz caught more at 7 to 2. But suddenly they became aware of the fact that a killing with Southampton was on the cards, and they began rubbing the odds until 12 to 1 was the best price on offer.

Patsy McCue had the mount, and when he went trailing up the backstretch far back in the ruck the col red betters scowled and looked around for Bob. But their suspense was shortlived, for rounding the turn Southampton mowed his field down like chaff before the wind and McCue brought the colt home winner in a sensational drive. With war whoops and yells the colored contingent rushed back to the ring to cash, while Johnston, the hero of the hour, declared that at the "boarding house kitchen" there would be terrapin and wine for supper instead of corn beef and cabbage and black coffee. It was a killing all right, and the books were busy paying out up to the departure of the last train for the city.

Barring the first three races, the starting yesterday was good. But with Locket, who vas heavily played to show in the first race. left at the post and a similar mishap to Mackey Dwyer, second choice, in the third race, together with poor send-offs for the favorites Monte Carlo and Chrysitis in the first two events, came more clamoring for the old flat-footed system, which, in the opinion of very many horsemen, will be restored the Jockey Club stewards in the near future. "This walk-up system," said a well known owner yesterday, "is simply a return to the old plan of using the recall flag. The barrier is really the recall flag, for it is not raised until the starter has the fields breaking to his liking. It was because of tedious delays at the post that the recall flag was abolished and the no-recall system with a flat-footed start was introduced. That system worked like a charm. There was never more than three or four minutes delay at the post, and there was little or no faultfinding. The gate was never sprung until all of the horses were straight in front of it, and the boys were made to stand their mounts with their noses on the tape. If a horse was a quick breaker under those circumstances he was entitled to an advantage. Under the walk-up system we have had delays, much confusion and several favorites getting the worst of the break. The public and owners are anxious to have a change and it is sure to come. This is a poor time to be experimenting, when we have already seen satisfactory starting under the flat-footed plan."

Another owner suggests that the flat-footed plan be used in long distance races and the "walk-up" in the sprints. It was said that the turf authorities would make no change until the Morris Park meeting and that if the present dissatisfaction exists ciples. Mars Cassidy is a good starter. is no getting away from the fact. But it is believed that he can render better satisfaction with the system so successfully used by C. J. Fitzgerald than with the present methods usual $10 on Tom Cod at 50 to 1. There was as much as 100 to 1 against the Kendal colt at one time, but nobody seemed able to say who played him. Daiy bought Tom Cod from Julius Fleischmann last year, and several days later, according to a story told yesterday by Tom Welsh, he called at the latter's house in the middle of the night and

"Tom, this colt is so good I want you to tell me where I can buy his brother!" Welsh says that when he had Tomcod he had him work five furlongs one day in 1:00% and promptly bet $500 on him the first time he started after that. Tomcod was badly beaten and Welsh declares that he has not made a bet since. Daly almost pulled his hair out by the roots when Locket was left at the post in the first race. The track just suited the Halma five-year-old and Daly went up into the grand stand all smiles as the horses cantered to the post. Locket was ridden by Racine, an apprentice, who hurried off to the paddock after leaving the scales when he saw the Sage of Hartford coming after him.

Lee, the colored boy who rode Princele to victory in the first race, was brought here by A. J. Plicque, the menager of Jockey Hicks. Plicque told Lee to keep a hold on Princelet and then skin the rail at the head of the stretch. The boy obeyed instructions to the letter and rode a splendid race. Lee is 19 years old, the same age as Hicks, and weighs 91 pounds. He has a wonderfully developed back, shoulders and arms. Hicks is very heavy just now, weighing 115 pounds vesterday, and is finding difficulty in securing mounts because of this handicap.

Archie Zimmer believes he has a second

Fuller in little Crimmins, a fearless midget who has shown marked improvement since last season and who rode a clever race on Foxy Kane yesterday in the fifth event.

E. R. Thomas's commissioners placed a big bet on Bound Brook in the last race but the colt was shut in early in the game and did not get free until it was too late. The Western contingent also played P. J. Gor-man's Blue Pennant down to twenties

"Skeets" Martin, the jockey who rode for the late William C. Whitney in England last year, arrived here yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, presumably to ride on the New York circuit. Trainer Richard Miller announced yesterday that Africander will not be a starter in the Metropolitan Handicap at Morris Park next week, but that the Star Ruby colt, who is slow in coming to hand, will be pointed for the Brooklyn Handicap. W. L. Oliver said vesterday that he had collected $800 in all for Jockey Ogilvie and that other subscriptions would be received

Fessenden after the races yesterday, 'I shall have to frame up another killing with

Marshall Beats American Champion it Second Round of Chess Tourney. CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., April 26 .- All the games in the second round of the great in-ternational chess masters' tournament, played at the Hotel Rider in this city to-day, were over nearly half an hour before the official closing of time. The pairing was arranged as follows: First board showalter vs. Telchmann, queen pawn opening. Second board—Janowski vs. Schlech ter. Vienna opening. Third board—Delmar vs Lawrence, queen's pawn opening. Fourth board— Marco vs. Lasker, Ruy Lopez. Fifth board—Napler vs. Mieses, Sicilian defence. Sixth board—Napler vs. Meses, Sicilian defence. Sixth board—Fox vs. Barry, Ruy Lopez. Seventh board—Marshall vs. Pilisbury, queen's pawn opening. Eighth board— Tschigorin vs. Hodges, counter centre gambit. The features of the day's play were Marshall's short and brilliant victory over Pillsbury Tschigorin's defeat at the hands of Hodges Marco's elever play against Lasker, who could only draw, and the poor form snown by Barry and Showelter in fighting Fox and Teichmann respectively. The last named had not by any means a good position a first, but won by indifferent play on behalf of Showalter after forty moves. Janowski played a splendid and correct Junowski played a splendid and correct game. He at first won a pawn and after forty-eight moves Schlechter resigned. Delimar and Lawrence discussed a game full of ups and downs. At first Delmar had an advantage over Lawrence and after thirty-four moves a draw was agreed. Marco seemed to be too much for Lasker, who vainly tried to get a win, so after forty-six moves a draw was agreed upon. Napler's try at a novelty against Mieses proved a tailure. The latter won the exchange and after thirty-six moves the game. Fox had much the worse of the fighting against Barry. The latter, however, slipped up and lost after fifty-two moves. Marshall caught Pillsbury neatly, administering to the American champion defeat after twenty-three moves. Pillsbury selected an inferior defence and really beat himself. Tschigorin committed a blunder, losing the exchange in the end and the partie after thirty-eight moves.

Following are the scores of the sixteen players at the close of the second day's lay.

Andy Daly Whips Kid Pantz on a Foul. Andy Daly of Boston had a narrow escape from defeat in his ten round bout with Kid Pantz at Gloucester, Mass., before the Gloucester A. C., on Monday night. In the third round Pantz fouled Daly and the referee promptly declared the Boston lad the winner. Up to that the the battle was interesting. Pantz seemed eager to make it a roughhouse affair and was cautioned often. After the bell had announced the end of the third round, Pantz pummelled Daly and pushed him headlong through the ropes. Daly received as ugly fall, landing on his head. He was picked up unconscious and had to be carried to his corner, but revived in five minutes. Pantz's action was hooted by the crowd. He said it was an accident. Kid Pantz at Gloucester, Mass, before the Courtney took the 'varsity boats on the lake despite the rough water. When near Glenwood it was seen that last year's freshman eight, which is being trained for the two mile races this spring, was in trouble. Courtney turned the launchabout, and but for his timely assistance the men would have been forced to swim. The shell was brought to shore immediately, and the nerve displayed by the oarsmen pleased Courtney. They returned to the boathouse without further work, shiyering from the cold.

Kid Murphy Knocks Out John Lessner. BATTMORY, Md., April 26 .- Kid Murphy of New York knocked out John Lessner of this New York knocked out John I essner of this city last night, before the Knickerbocker A. C., in the second round. Murphy assumed the aggressive from the tap of the going and it could soon be seen that Leasner was outclassed. Murphy landed his left reneatedly on I essner's law and only received a right and left to the face in return. In the second round the kild rushed, feinted with his left and crossed his right to the law, putting his opponent completely out.

Decker.

CHICAGO, April 26.-Benny Yanger, the Cutoaco, April 26.—Benny Yanger, the local featherveight, received the decision over George Decker of Philadelphia at the conclusion of their six round bout before a local chip here has night. The Quaker City boy, who was fully ten pounds lighter than yanger, put up one of the best fights seen here in a long time. He liabbed the Italian from start to finish, and a large number of the speciators vigorously disapproved of Referee Bardell's decision.

FROM POLITICS TO BASEBALL. Robert W. Chanler Leases Poughkeepsle Park to Get Even With McCabe.

POUGHKEEPSIE, April 26. - Abruptly following his withdrawal from politics in Dutchess county, Assemblyman Robert W. Chanler to-day caused another sensation by leasing the Poughkeepsie baseball park and announcing his intention of playing semi-pro fessional teams there in competition with the Paughkeepsie League team, of which he was formerly the good angel. Ex-chief of Police rough Reepsie League team, of which he was formerly the good angel. Ex-chief of Police William McCabe, one of his old political lieutenants, is manager of the league team. Mr. Chanlers action is popularly regarded as a step on his part to get even with McCabe for not standing by him in his attempt to control the Democratic organization in opposition to the Hill men.

The control of the park gives Mr. Chanler the key to the baseball situation. The park was constructed by Manager McCabe and his friends, but, on account of a disastrous season last year, it recently passed into the hands of other parties, who to-day agreed to lease it to Mr. Chanler. Heavy expenditures have been made by Manager McCabe to start the buseball season, which will go for nothing if Mr. Chanler does not relent. Twenty men will be here to-morrow to report for practice, and the first game is scheduled for Saturday.

Hanlonites Score Three Runs in the First Inning, and the Locals Are Unable to Catch Up-The Bostons Again Defeat the Quakers-The Scores-Notes.

The Brooklyns yesterday won their first game from the New Yorks, and the Bostons won again from the luckless Philadelphias. Rain in the West once more prevented the games in that section. The results: Brooklyn, 4; New York, 2.

tionals have been making lately would have come in handy yesterday. The New Yorks wished for hits as earnestly as the spectators wished for hot stoves, but the wishes did not come true. The damp, cold weather may have tied the New Yorks up more than it did their guests from Brooklyn. Be that as it may, the Brooklyns won the game.

The first inning settled it. The Brooklyns made three runs in that inning, one more than the New Yorks got in the entire game.

Jones pitched more effectively than Taylor, though Taylor did some good work with men on bases, and Jones's support was a shade faster and stancher than Taylor's. Taylor had a passing streak of wildness in the first inning. The first thing he did was to shove an inshoot into Sammy Strang's anatomy. Sheckard sent in a safe one to centre, and Lumley went out on a long fly to Mertes. Strang unhitched himself from second on the catch and skedaddlet for third.

Mertes made a good throw to third, but slightly to the outside of the bag, and Strang slid in safely before Devlin could shift his position and get the ball on him. On Dobbs's two-base hit Strang came in and Sheckard went to third. There Taylor made a wild pitch, and Sheckard scored. The energetic gingery, busy Babb poked a single to centre which Dobbs tallied. Browne came within an ace-or an inch-singery, busy Babb poked a saigle to centre

n which Dobbs tallied.

Browne came within an ace—or an inch—of making a home run when New York came to bat. He hit hard to right, but Lumley bumped into the fence, reached his hands across the top of it and caught the ball. Devlin went out on a hard drive to Dobbs.
Molann was hit by a pitched ball, and Mertes followed with a line hit that all but gave the first aid to the injured experts present something to do. The ball struck Bob Emslie on the arm and came with such force that the umpire was in great pain. When he resumed work H. McCormick ended the inning with an infield grounder.

McGann hit between centre and right for a home run in the third inning, the ball rolling under the ropes. The Brooklyns made two hits in the fourth inning and had two men on bases with only one out, but Gilbert's speed as pivot man in a double play shut off the visitors summarily. Gilbert had to step around the man coming to second to make the throw to first, but his agility and accuracy enabled him to complete the play.

Another peculiar chain of happenirgs led up to New York's run in the fourth inning.
Dahlen was safe on a bounder that was too torrid for Babb to handle cleanly. Then he stole second Jones made a good stop of Gilbert's smash, turned to catch Dahlen between the bases, saw that he could not, then engaged in a mental wrestle with himself as to just what to do with the ball. By the time he did throw, Gilbert had pearly reached first Dillon, Strang and Jones walked up to the plate to kick on the decision calling Gilbert safe, and Gilbert broke for second in the thick of the debate. Jones threw down to second and caught Gilbert,
but Dahlen slipped in from third on the play.

The New Yorks threatened to do things in the fifth. Taylor singled and Browne bunted.
Devlin also bunted, but Bergen fielded the ball in beautiful style to third, forcing Browne and breaking up the rally. With two on bases and one out in the seventh, Babb silenced the velling crowd by taking Mc

While the fourth inning was on a man with a silk hat and frock cost strode into view walking across in front of the 25 cent seats. Eirst a silence fell upon the two-bits throng, then it broke into uproarious cheering. "Frock coats and silk hats are comme if faut in the grand stand, but are considered a faux prisin the 25 cent region," was the explanation of one man who said he had once been aboard a French steamship, of the incident. The score:

Barney Preyfuss has given his team perticular attention since it left Hot Springs. He saw where it was weak, and after a few days' rost in New York sent a message today to Care. Fred Clark to release unconditionally Vell and Preister and give them railroad tickets bome. Both have failed to come up to Preyfuss sidea of ball players. Moran, too, will either go or be farmed to some minor league.

"I want ball players," said Dreyfuss, "and I want the memant again this year. I have get to nake changes during the season, as I want only the best."

Philadelphia Nationals Get Dovie and Lauder. The Philadelphia National League Club

has made a couple of deals by which Jack Doyle has been secured from the Brooklyn Doyle has been secured from the Brooklyn Club to play first base and Billy Lauder, the third baseman, has been purchased from the New York club. The Quakers have needed a first baseman badly, and as Hanlon now has Dillon to play first for his team Doyle will be of more value in Philadelphia. Lauder has not played ball this season. He did not sign a contract. He played his first professional ball in Philadelphia.
